Join us at the Humanitarian Health and Climate Change Symposium 2019

The 2019 Climate Change and Humanitarian Health Symposium will connect leaders to discuss and progress a humanitarian health practice that is climate-informed and resilient.

Join us on November 12 in Melbourne to hear speakers from:

- World Health Organisation
- The Global Health Alliance
- The Lancet Countdown on Health and Climate Change
- The IPCC

In workshop sessions, you'll have the chance to discuss climate challenges specific to humanitarian health and how these might be addressed through leadership and practice.
